CALL FOR PAPERS:
The Journal of Global Drug Policy and Practice
http://www.globaldrugpolicy.org/

The Journal of Global Drug Policy and Practice is an international peer-reviewed journal with the goal of bridging the information gap on drug policy issues between the medical-scientific community, policymakers, practitioners, and the lay public. Our intended readership includes clinicians, clinical researchers, policymakers, prevention specialists, and other persons interested in understanding drug policy issues or in providing drug policy recommendations. The Journal of Global Drug Policy and Practice is a joint effort of the Institute on Global Drug Policy and the International Scientific and Medical Forum on Drug Abuse.

The theme of our next 2-part issue is, Trends in Substance Abuse Treatment, and the possible subject areas include, but are not limited to:

- New trends in abuse
- Impact of medical marijuana on addiction
- Unmet needs of potential treatment patients
- Women and substance abuse
- Treatment of neo-natal addiction
- Effectiveness of current treatment programs
- Relapse prevention
- Cognitive-behavioral vs. medical approach treatment programs
- History/evolution of substance abuse treatment
- How is successful treatment being defined?

The guidelines for authors are attached. You may write a new article, republish work that is previously published, or even a combination. All manuscripts must be prepared in English. The deadline for submission of your article is February 24, 2012, in order to be considered for publication in Part 1. A letter of intent is recommended and should include the working title or subject, plus the anticipated submission date. Please submit your letter of intent and paper, via e-mail, to the following address:
